MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

Further Improvement Due to Easy Rates-The Upward Movement General. NEW YORK, Jan. 4.-Money on call was easy, ranging from 3 to 4 per cent, the last loan being made at 3, closing offered at 2 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper 534@712 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet and firm at $4.80 for sixty-day bills and $4.84 for demand.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 130,-771 shares, including the following: Canada Southern, 1,800; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 4,800; Kansas & Texas, 2,000; Lake Shore, 2,860; Missouri Paeific, 11,171; Northern Pacific preferred, 2,-055; Oregon Transcontinental, 1,160; Pacific Mail, 2,600; Reading, 9,100; Richmond & West Point, 5,830; St. Paul, 5,825; Texas Pacific, 2,000; Union Pacific, 1,550; Western Union, 1,760.

The stock market was again moderately active to-day, and in that respect furnished a marked contrast to the dealings during the same hours of yesterday, and the urgent demand for stocks which was developed yesterday continued, with the result of leaving almost everything traded in materially higher than last evening. The money rates to-day were, of course, merely nominal, but they were low, and the purchasing for the long account assumed larger proportions, and, aided by the demand from the "shorts," a strong and steadily advancing market was made. The uniformity of the improvement was a feature, and the only marked advances occurred in the specialties. The opening was active and strong at advances over last night's figures, extending to 5s per cent., and with the single exception of Sugar Refineries, which was sold on rumors of a probable contest between the refining interests, the entire market moved up, though the only specially prominent advance was in Colorado Coal, which spurted up 24 per cent. in a short time. Sugar retired about 2 per cent., but recovered a large portion of the loss, while the general list was subjected to a moderset-back toward 11 o'clock. This was of short duration, however, and the upward movement was soon resumed, though with less force, and no new feature was developed, the close being active and strong, with prices generally at the highest points. Pacific Mail was advanced on rumors of favorable action at Washington and on points emanating from the insiders, and Lead Trust was bought steadily on the belief of better prospects for the trust. Illinois Coal and Coke was again active. advanced a fraction over its last evening's price. The entire active list is higher to-night, and while the improvement is generally measured by fractions, Colorado coal and Central Pacific are each up 112, and Pullman 114, while Sugar Refineries lost 114.

Railroad bonds were more active than they have been for some time, the transactions for the two hours reaching $953,000, with the Chesapeake & Ohio fives specially prominent in the dealings with transactions or $120,000. Shenandoah Valley firsts certificates rose 3 to 115. The sales of bonds for the week were $4,883,000, against $4,491,000 for last week.

Government and State bonds were dull and steady. Closing quotations were:

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Wheat Weakens and Settles Back-Corn and

Tacoma

Oats Fairly Steady-Pork Stronger. CHICAGO, Jan. 4.-Only a moderate business was transacted in wheat, and the feeling was unsettled. The market opened up weak, and prices were 12@5sc lower, due to the government crop report and to a rather easier tone of European markets. The firmness in the foreign markets has been the principal strengthening feature lately, and with this lacking operators have given up hope. At the decline there was good buying to cover "shorts," and one prominent trader was credited with buying 1,000,000 bu or more for May delivery. The buying was sufficient to check the decline and caused a temporary rally of 12@5se above early inside figures, but eased off again later, closing about 18@14c lower than yesterday. A moderate business was transacted in corn and the feeling developed was weak, early, but later a steadier tone was manifested. There was no new feature presented outside of the government report which had a weakening tendency. The market opened a shade under the closing prices of yesterday, the near futures showing the greater weakness. January, in particular, which sold off lealte. A rally of le followed, but was of short duration, the market ruling easier and final figures were a shade was of short duration, the market ruling easier and final figures were a shade lower than yesterday. Only a light business was done in oats, the near deliveries being neglected. There was no particular pressure to sell, hence the prices remained steady. A fairly active trade was reported in pork, and the market exhibited a little more strength in a general way "Shorts" purchased a few lots, and prices advanced 52712c. Later the market ruled quiet, and prices settled back again 52712c, and closed comparatively steady at medium figures. A quiet feeling prevailed in lard. Prices were about .0212c lower, and the market closed quiet. In short ribs there was less doing. Prices ruled about .0212c lower, and the market closed quiet. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. The Holiday Duliness to Trade Gradually Wearing Off.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 4. In most departments to-day there was an increased activity, and the dullness which usually comes over trade in and shortly after the holiday season is gradually passing off. In prices there have been but few changes the last week. However, all staple groceries carry an easy tone. Sugars especially are easy at the revision in prices of Friday. Canned goods are moving rather slowly. The California dried fruits are so unusually fine this season that canned goods come secondary for lable use. Druggists for weeks have had an excellent trade, and prices on most articles they handle rule firm. The leather market the last thirty days has been quite active, but are so unusually fine this season that canned prices on several descriptions carry an easy tone. The hide market is active enough. but the efforts to spring prices are not satisfactory and margins continue small with the dealers. In wool practically nothing is doing, although prices are very firm. Seeds are dull at unchanged prices. The dry goods men are doing as much as usual in early January. and were the weater to become winter-like there is yet some chance to sell a good many woolen goods. The produce markets are well cleared of left-over stocks during the holidays, and with the exception of eggs prices are ruling steady at about the same range as for two weeks past. Cabbage scarce and good stock will bring $1 to $1.25 per barrel. Sweet potatoes are in light supply, but with a slow demand prices are no higher. Apples must be choice to bring our best quotations, Oranges are selling well, with the supply averaging well with the demand. Other markets show no change calling for mention. markets show no change calling for mention.

The local market shows no improvement over Friday. Dealers are taking hold of all cereals cautiously, especially corn. Wheat and oats carry a steady tone, while corn is weak in sympathy with unfavorable reports from other markets. Track bids to-day were as follows.

Clover, Timothy and Blue-Grass THE H. T. CONDE IMPLEMENT CO. The largest wholesale seed house in Indiana. Strictly prime seed a specialty.

76 and 78 West Washington Street, Indianapolis. Corn Fodder and Hay.

The question is not which is to be selected, corn fodder or hay. Both are good, and neither is to be neglected. They are not to be regarded as rivals, but as allies. Separately, each is valuable; combined, their values are more than doubled.

Corn fodder, when well cured, is bulk for bulk much cheaper, and pound for pound quite as valuable as the average hay, which is largely made up of weeds and stoned grass. It is more laxative and genstoned grass. It is more laxative and generally more palatable than hay. Yet it is not to be accepted as a substitute where first-quality hay can be easily secured. It may often happen that the failure to get a set of grass threatens to cut short the next winter supply of forage. Then it is that the corn-fodder crop comes in most oppor-tunely. But it is not well to leave corn fodder out of the list of regular farm crops at any time.

Were the best methods of managing this crop from seed-bed to harvest more widely known, undoubtedly it would be more extensively grown. One of the best methods is as follows:

Lay off rows, from three to four feet, according to the locality, quality of land and variety of seed, drop the grains eight or ten inches apart in the rows. Keep the crop well cultivated and free of weeds. Especially lay it by clean.

For a good crop there should be at least one good ear to each stalk. When the ears are well glazed, the crop should be cut and shocked, about 150 hills to a shock. In well-made shocks both the corn and stalks will ripen and the corn be subsestalks will ripen, and the corn be subsequently shucked out for the granary. As the corn is shucked the stalks should be bound into bundles and put into the barn or carefully stacked. The size of the bunch may be regulated by using tarred twine cut into regular lengths. And the work in the field will be faciliated if at one and of each string a loop, is made beone end of each string a loop is made before the strings are given out to the binders. The foundations of all stacks should be made of rails, or plank, to keep the bot-

About seventy-five shocks make a good sized stack. When a stack is broken it should be moved under cover, as it is seriously injured by rain or snow. Now is a good time to plan for next year's crops, and we bespeak a good place on every dairy farm for corn fodder.

Profit in Sheep.

Pittsburg Chronicle. "The time has come when the farmer must meet the sheep question on a close basis. It is true that there has been a very small in-crease in the price of wool this year; but the per cents. of gain will not put a lasting backbone into the sheep industry." says an experienced sheep husbandman, who adds: "East of the Mississippi river the average cost for keeping a sheep one year is not less than $2.50, and in all the Atlantic States it is $3. The wool of my flock will pay half the keeping of my sheep, with 3 cents over. If every ewe had scored a lamb they would not be worth-merinos-more than $2 each any time during the summer or autumn. I kept into the winter they would cost all they would gain. In fact, lambs, yearings or two-year-olds will not pay for their keeping, with only the wool for an income, and this is all there is; unless the future increase of the ewe, the lambs she may yean, are taken into the account. When this is done, then the annual income must be charged, with the back charges for rearing. Is not this a close business? Althoroughbred, I could not afford to keep them. There were no sales at extra or fancy prices, and I had to keep them on a mutton and wool basis. We are now eating the mutton of sheep which cost $35 each. I am still a sheep man; but not on a wool basis. Wool must be made an incidental consideration. It must come in secondary. My ideal is mutton. A flock for profit would be blocky, thick-fleeced, black-face ewes of any breed I could get, or even high-graded, and then cross them with a Dorset horned ram. I should expect with this mingling of blood to get lambs of fine quality, quick to material and late of twints. ture and lots of twins. An income of six pounds of wool and $10 worth of lambs would put a new face on the sheep business, and it is worth trying for."

A Warning. Philadelphia Press.

Our friends in the Methodist ministry who are agitating a third term for pastors, want to go a trifle slow. It's a regular political Jonah. Look at Ohio.

DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY

The Most Complete Newspaper in all Departments in the State of Indiana.

No newspaper in the West is more widely or more favorably known than the Indianapolis Journal. By the display of enterprise and strict attention to the wants of the reading public, during the great campaign of 1888, it has taken a leading position among the most prominent journals of the country, and is certainly among the best. Among the newspapers of the State it is pre-eminently the best, and Indiana readers can nowhere else find what they want in the way of State and local news. It circulates largely in every county in Indiana. and has correspondents in every town and village of importance. Its market reports are prepared with the greatest care possible, and no pains or expense are spared to make them accurate and absolutely reliable. It is the only newspaper in the State owning and publishing all the news furnished by the two great press associations (the Western Associated Press and the United Press), in addition to which it furnishes an abundance of special service from all the principal cities of the country. It has been, and will in future be, the aim of the publishers to make the Indianap-OLIS JOURNAL a perfect and complete newspaper, deficient in no department or particular. The paper challenges comparison with any of its contempe-

No Indiana reader, certainly no Indiana Republican, should be without the Journal. While it is thoroughly and soundly Republican in politics, devoted to the interests of the Republican party, the Journal will not allow its news to be colored by partisan bias, but will give the news of the day without fear or

Owing to the prominence of Indiana in the national administration, the Journal gives particular attention to Washington news, which will be given far more completely than ever before. For this reason, if for no other, no Indiana reader can afford to be without it for the next four years. In addition to its new features, the Journal regales its readers with the productions of some of the best known literary men and women of the day. Many of the most celebrated magazine writers and authors are contributors to its literary columns, making it a paper for the household and home circle. Special arrangements have been made for features of this character, which will appear in the Journal during the coming year. These appear most largely in the SUNDAY JOURNAL, which is a special edition, and can be subscribed for and received exclusive of the DAILY JOURNAL.
